

Human Intelligence: aka Informants

How to Identify and Manage Risk Mitigation and Event Planning August 22, 2022 * Puyallup, Washington Sponsored by the Puyallup Police Department

Informants are an invaluable asset in the acquisition of information and intelligence. Informants can provide real-time intelligence on any criminal activities. However, informants can present challenges to even the most skilled controlling officer. This course will teach some of the skills needed to identify and manage informants. Additionally, it will outline how to mitigate risk in the management of informants and when they are deployed undercover, in addition to how to mitigate risk in the planning and execution enforcement operations when using undercover assets.

If you work in any LE role such as homicide, gangs, gun crimes, sex crimes, human trafficking, property crimes, or street crime units where you might use an Informant, this class is for you!

This eight (8) hour class will cover such Topics as:

- How to Identify Confidential Informants (CI)
- How to manage CIs
- How to mitigate risk while working with CIs
- Risk Mitigation in street operations, UC operations, and warrants
- The Flip/Cooperation
- How to determine a CIs motivation
- Is your CI policy working or does it work for you?

Instructor: Selby Smith is a retired DEA agent with over 32 years of law enforcement experience. He has been teaching the use of confidential informants since 1999. Review by a previous student: "...Selby draws on his years of domestic and international criminal investigative experience to teach Human Intelligence and Risk Mitigation in an engaging and informative manner.

With harrowing real-life stories, and years of experience and lessons to draw from, Selby engages his audience and imparts the importance of recognizing potential issues and risks with informant handling. Without these skills, tunnel vision and lost objectivity can lead to dangerous and failed criminal investigations resulting in a loss of reputation, criminal/civil liability, and possibly physical harm to the handler or others. This course is a "must-attend" and definitive primer on informant handling for any criminal investigator, law enforcement supervisor, or intelligence officer working with informants and sources of information."
