

PATROL RESPONSE: CRITICAL INCIDENT DECISION-MAKING

This is a “must attend” course for law enforcement officers and supervisors. Students will learn a decision-making formula for responding to dynamic and critical incidents. In our modern era of policing, law enforcement professionals must be prepared, knowledgeable and competent in their decision-making skills and actions. This one-day course will cover:

- Critical Incident Decision-Making
 - De-Escalation
 - Use of Force / Deadly Force
 - Post-Force Considerations
 - Real World Scenarios
- Class Date: April 26, 2021
0800-1600 hours
$149.00
DuPont Police Department
1780 Civic Drive, DuPont WA 98327

Your instructor, Jim Nelson, provides the combined perspective of both a lawyer and career police officer. Jim has more than 14 years of police supervisory experience in patrol, criminal investigations and administration. He is a licensed attorney in California, a certified Force-Analyst from the prestigious Force Science Institute, and serves as a supervisor on a regional “officer-involved” shooting investigative team.

Register at www.nelsonlaw.org

Contact: Jim Nelson, jim@nelsonlaw.org

